

Dearest Viktoria,

In preparation for your impending Delhi belly adventures, your humble servants Mr. T and Pinky (of Pinky and the Brain)

would like to cordially invite you to

A Maharaja's Feast.

As you are still suffering from a lack of appetite,

we thought we would take advantage,

since you won't be able to eat much, meaning,

there will just be that much more for us.

Time:

Any evening – Monday through Thursday

The location in question:

Deeba – albeit Pakistani, not Indian, has lovely food and a lovely host, or Sonar Bangla – a Bengali restaurant with delicious food, and the host, he's also nice.

We hope you will accept this humble Birthday offering.

Sincerely,
